January 2017

VIP Guest at Mission Hall Carol Service

Would you believe it, none other than the Chancellor of the Exchequer Philip Hammond swelled our congregation this year (honest!)— he was visiting relations, apparently. (Sorry that he's just out of frame in Alec Pelmore's discreet photo taken from the choir.) We raised £125 for Hospice in the Weald, which is about £25 more than usual, so I guess Mr Hammond must have loosened his purse strings a little, or the economy's on the up, or both! Anyway, he's very welcome to come again—we could do with some more baritones in the choir.

GG Women's Institute by Iris Wilson

There was an air of excitement about the hall when we arrived for our last meeting of 2016 on Wednesday 7th December. The tiny Christmas lights that were strung all around the hall made it look like fairyland and were really welcoming.

Our usual exchange of Christmas cards took place (it saves such a lot on postage!) and it adds to the excitement of the evening. For a small WI we surely make a lot of noise—but being small has its advantages as everyone knows everyone else. If you want to join a WI then join Golden Green's, where you will be sure a of welcome and lots of new friends. Try us!

The speaker for the evening was Barbara Stevens with her talk 'Stoic Past Presidents of Downe WI'. We wondered, 'A talk about the WI at a Christmas meeting?' It didn't sound as if it was going to be much fun. But how wrong we were! She was such a good orator, and was really hilarious with her asides. We were so pleased that she stayed on afterwards to enjoy mulled wine and nibbles with us.

A reminder to all that our first meeting this year is on Wednesday 18 January; it's a social evening, and subscriptions for the coming year will be collected by Pearl.

A full programme of speakers has been arranged for 2017 by Marion, who has done a wonderful job as usual of selecting and booking interesting people with a wide variety of subjects.

We continue in February with our own secretary Rosalind who spent several weeks in China in 2016. This is a fascinating country with a culture so different from ours and she is going to talk about her experiences.

All are welcome and with a charge of just £3 for visitors, which includes tea/coffee and biscuits and great company of course, this is an evening not to be missed!
