The Golden Green Association Newsletter

November 2014

Welcome to Sarah!

Please give a warm Golden Green welcome to Sarah Humphrey who has taken over The Bell from Ray and Gill Warren.

Sarah formerly ran the Black Horse at Borough Green. She has wasted no time in organising a fundraising event for a favourite charity – a race night for Macmillan Cancer Support.

We hope she will be very happy in our hamlet, and will soon feel part of our community.

At their leaving 'do' last month, Ray and Gill were presented with an engraved crystal vase from his friends in Golden Green.

They have retired (with Jenny the cat) to Kemsley, near Sittingbourne where they can enjoy being closer to their grandchildren.

Photos of the presentation can be seen on the GGA Facebook page and in the email subscribers' supplement (and on the parish council website).

First Aid Training

Wed 5 November 7–9pm
Sat 15 November 2.30–4.30pm

There are a few places still available on the above dates for training in the use of the AED (defibrillator).

Don't wait for an emergency to learn how to use it.

Book now as there are no more sessions planned. Contact Jane Rogers: tel 850329, email gjanerogers@aol.com.

Your Hamlet

There's no room to print all the photos I'd like to show you this month – Ray & Gill's presentation, the works going on at the Bourne, the updated Flood map from the Environment Agency etc. But they are in the supplement to this issue, which is emailed to PDF subscribers. Sadly we can't afford to print them all on paper.

Next month will be the last issue that you'll receive unless you've given us your email address or you've told us you want to continue with paper. So please, if you can, subscribe by email. Send your email and address to Alec (alecpelmore@btinternet.com; 850739) or Anne (gghamlet@outlook.com; 850048). Alternatively download the newsletters from the Hadlow Parish website or the GGA Facebook page.

GG Women's Institute

Report by Iris Wilson

At last month's meeting our speaker was David Bower, who was an Olympic Trailblazer. He told us that it started way back in 2008 when he was interviewed at the London Assessment Centre. He was asked if he could commit to one day a week for four years! As he was retired he thought, 'Why not?'. Don't forget that this commitment was unpaid!

While the Olympic Park was being built he worked in the Communications Centre as a tour guide. In the opening and closing ceremonies of the Olympics, he was one of the men in royal blue suits and bowler hats with a light on top! He brought his hat along to show us as they were allowed to keep their 'uniforms'.

David also brought along various pictures, badges and official notes for us to see. He is an accomplished drummer and was in the sequence where they used upturned plastic buckets as drums (much cheaper than buying the real thing!) He admitted that some of it was hard work – learning routines and keeping in time and having to remember exactly where to stand. He had lots of fun during those four years and made many new friends. He ended by saying that he was proud and privileged to have taken part.

In a busy month, our quiz night was held the following week when, as hosts, we welcomed representatives of six other WIs in the District to our village hall. All the tables were used and Rob Seall, husband of our secretary Rosalind, very kindly offered to act as quizmaster. There were at least seven categories, finishing with a Dingbats quiz, while we enjoyed sandwiches, cakes and drinks. It was fun finding out just what one did and mostly did not know! For those who arranged the evening, thank you – it was enjoyed by everyone. The winners were Hildenborough Evening, second was Hadlow and third was Lyghe.

On 19 November (doors open 7.30 pm) we look forward to our Rosemary telling us about patchwork quilts. Do come along! For details of GG WI, contact Rosemary Blackburn on 850812.

The Village Pump

* Dick Marcroft, Bourne Park resident, has done it again! At 76 he has won gold at the British Masters Judo championships, and has now set his sights on the World Masters, where he has conquered before. Well done!

* Hadlow Orchestra is holding its annual concert on Sunday 23 November at 3pm in St Mary's Church, Hadlow. Free admission for a selection of well-known light classics and a delicious home-made tea. Just turn up.

* The superb Lydian Orchestra have a concert on 22 December at St Stephen's Church, Tonbridge, featuring our very own Chris Pelmore as tenor soloist! Not to be missed.

* We're delighted to see that KCC have begun repairs to the footbridge over the Bourne. And the EA have started work too – they say they will 'remove obstructions from the river and overhanging branches between Victorian Road and Pierce Mill Lane.' They say the work will take several weeks.

Bourne Update

The Environment Agency (EA) has updated the Flood Map (again). After protestations from some Sherenden Park residents, some properties that had been included in the revised map have now been re-classified as low risk. The new map will be published on 3 November.

If you've been walking up by the Bourne in the past couple of weeks, you'll have seen that concrete blocks have been laid on either side of the footbridge, and by the weir, vegetation has been cleared from the north bank. Further works are to carry on over the next few weeks.

Top left and right: The footbridge now leaning at a rather drunken angle after bank erosion caused by last year's floods loosened its moorings. Middle left: No access across the bridge, with large concrete bastions placed at either end, which presumably will be sunk into the bank to provide a firm footing for the repaired (or new?) bridge.

Let's hope KCC restore it quickly as there is now no crossing point for walkers between Victoria Road and Pierce Mill Lane, and no warning of the fact.

Middle right: The north bank of the Bourne by the weir cleared of vegetation. Long-term residents say that the channel of clear water at non-flood times (bottom right, taken at the end of September) is much narrower than in the past, when canoeists used it. Do you have any photos of how the Bourne was in past years that you could share?

Last Orders for Ray & Gill

Ray and Gill's plans to depart without fuss were scuppered last month, when their last evening behind the bar at The Bell was hijacked by an impromptu send-off attended by as many people as were available at only a few hours' notice!

Linda Daker presented them with a crystal vase engraved with the GG sign and the words 'Ray & Gill, on your retirement from The Bell Inn from all your friends in Golden Green'. Howard Rogers thanked them for all their support for the community (although Ray doesn't look impressed in the photo!)

Thank you to Linda who arranged for the purchase of the vase, which was paid for from GGA funds.

Ray & Gill have promised to visit when they've settled into their new home.

And finally ...

The Pelmore's very impressive home-grown Halloween pumpkin (nicknamed Percy), weighing in at a magnificent 26.4 kg or just over a stone!

KENT COUNTY COUNCIL COMMUNITY WARDEN

Now that the darker evenings are returning and whilst North & West Kent remains a very safe place to live a lot of burglaries take place on the spur of the moment when a burglar sees an open window or another easy way in. You can take simple steps to avoid this type of opportunistic crime.

In your home

- Lock all windows and doors before you go out or go to bed
- Fit security measures such as intruder alarms, door chains and door locks. A spy hole lets you see who's at your door
- Avoid labelling house keys in case you lose them and they fall into the wrong hands
- Don't leave keys (especially car keys) or other valuables near doors or windows.

Around your home

- Make sure fences, hedges and gates are in good condition – this makes it difficult to enter your property
- Install external security lights (but make sure the lights don't affect your neighbours and that alarms turn off after 20 minutes)
- Avoid leaving side gates open and make sure ladders and garden equipment that could be used to force entry are not left out
- Keep garages and sheds locked and alarmed
- Store bins carefully so that they cannot be used as a climbing aid
- Never hide spare house keys outside or in a shed
- Dispose of packaging carefully - wrapping and boxes you put outside your house on bin day advertises what you have in your house.

If you are away from home

- Use timers for lights and radios - this will create the impression someone is home
- Cancel regular deliveries, such as milk and newspapers
- Make sure garden furniture is stored away and that sheds and garden gates are locked
- Ask a relative or trusted neighbour to pop in and move any post or junk mail from inside your door
- Arrange for the curtains to be opened and closed
- Offer your neighbours the use of your driveway
- Check your insurance policy - some policies don't provide cover if you are away for more than 30 days

If you are unfortunate enough to come across an intruder in your home – contact 999 immediately

Tips on staying safe from fire:

- Make sure you fit, and regularly test, a smoke alarm. It is the single most important piece of safety equipment in any home.
- If you plan on using an open fire, make sure your chimney has been recently swept as build-ups of soot and ash can cause chimney fires.
- When going to bed, make absolutely certain that any open fire is either out, or pushed back into the grate and a guard used to prevent sparks setting light to carpets or furniture.
- Interior doors should always be closed when going to bed as they can dramatically reduce the spread of fire.
- Portable heaters should be dust-free and kept well away from anything that could catch fire.
- Candles should always be placed on a non flammable surface, be away from soft furnishing like curtains and never be left unattended. It is far safer to consider using torches instead of candles.
- Before using an electric blanket, make sure it is under 10 years old, check it is working order and always follow the manufacturer's instructions.
